Class History

To the Class of 2002,

September of 1997 was the start of our high school careers. As young eighth graders, with our elementary and middle school years behind us, we were both anxious and nervous to enter the high school for the first time. Still, we took on the task without looking back. It was clear then that the Class of 2002 would stand out from the rest in so many ways.

Eighth grade was a transitional year in our new school. We not only had to get used to the larger school, we also had to adjust to being the "little kids" in the halls. Our first event as a class was a total success. The eighth grade semi turned the cafeteria into a "Tropical Paradise" complete with palm trees and a grass hut guarded by Tiki Gods. The DJ's were great—even the eighth grade King of Pop showed up to do the moon walk in the dance competition.

In ninth grade our innovative spirit began to shine through. A transformation took place in all of us through the year as we matured and grew as individuals. What better way to celebrate the end of freshman year than with Freshman Fun Night. At 2Cool we became sumo wrestlers, competed in the inflatable obstacle course, and danced amidst a shower of bubbles and smoke.

As sophomores, we were the middle grade, but we refused to go unnoticed as we caught the attention of the entire school with the production of our Fashion Show. We really came together as a class in putting on this event and it turned out fantastic. We strutted our stuff up on the catwalk and looked good doing it. "Time For Fashion" had it all: time traveling hosts, the Grape Vine dancers, and even an appearance from Elvis himself.

The fourth year in high school proved to be a treat for us. As juniors we were comfortable with our school and being upperclassmen, but things began to get more difficult. The pressure was on us now, but we didn't back down. We continued to shine academically and in our individual sports, clubs and activities. In the spring we came together and danced the night away at our Junior Prom. "Ever After" was only a few hours long but the memories of that night will remain with us forever.

As seniors graduating in the spring, we will leave the legacy of our class to those who will follow. We have certainly left our mark both in and out of the classroom. We were the leaders in the school: the captains of the teams, the officers of the clubs, the actors up on stage and the musicians in the band. I sincerely wish all of you the best of luck in whatever you choose to do in the future. Boldly pursue your dreams with character, an innovative spirit, and a sense of humor, and always remember the wonderful five years we shared together at MHS.

Sincerely,
Michael Rizzo, President

Sarah Delaney Ethier "Eeth" September 22, 1982 - July 7, 2001

Sonnet for Sarah

"I love you bigger than the sky" she said... ... "and I love you even bigger than that..." Remembering now...the stories we've read about big "Bubba" dogs... and cats in hats...

Great big hugs were the way we said "hello"... And "goodbye"... "good morning"... "how was your day?" Thinking just now of the places we'd go... and your special place on Katama Bay

How quickly it's passe'... how joyous it has been Your "flashbulb" smile... that face... those sparkling

The most precious child the world has ever seen... You're the most brilliant star in all God's skies...

Mr. Sullivan Class Advisor

"I get by with a little help from my friends." — The Beatles

Helping a friend whose world has crashed around him...cheering a friend as she scores the winning goal or succeeds at directing a play that brings a standing ovation...a snowball fight on a winter's day when school is canceled...a concert, a trip, a bus ride, a phone call, a smile, and a tear...a frustrated sense of not fitting in and recognizing that that is what makes you special...

When all of the tests, papers, projects and events are over and the chairs for graduation are put away, Marshfield High School will be a mixture of memories that will take years to fully understand. As is life, high school is a series of changes and challenges that constantly test character. For some, high school has provided the confidence needed to achieve goals and dreams. For others, high school will be a reminder that potential unrealized is potential wasted. No matter what your high school experience, it is your friendships that have made the strongest impression on you. The Class of 2002 is linked by your relationships, and I know that it is difficult to say goodbye. However, I do not feel that we are saying goodbye at all. Good friends never leave you. They become a part of your lives and they are with you wherever you go.

Thank you to all of the class officers (there have been many combinations throughout the five years) and to everyone else who has helped make our events successful. Thank you for standing alongside each other and me through good times and bad. I hope that you remain courageous in the pursuit of your personal and professional goals. Do not let the unkind words of others derail your dreams. Seek achievement with passion and do not be afraid to make mistakes along the way. Often it is through our mistakes that we improve and grow. Never stop dreaming and believing. Whatever you do in life, try with all your heart to do it well; whatever you devote yourself to, devote yourself completely. In the words of Albert Camus, "Real generosity to the future consists of giving all to what is present." Use your talents to make this world a better place, and never forget your friends.

Sincerely,

Your friend and advisor.

We, the Class of 2002, dedicate our yearbook to

Mr. George Bachi and Mr. Thomas McMahon Thank you for the lessons you have taught us through your friendship, support, motivation, and inspiration.

Mr. Bachi is a dedicated staff member here at MHS.

He inspires his students to do their best and is always willing to go the extra mile to ensure that they understand algebra.

Mr. Bachi is always willing to stay after, and he is always as nice as can be about it. His students agree that they have been so fortunate to have this wonderful man as their teacher, mentor, and friend.

Mr. McMahon is a dedicated teacher striving for his tudents' best. His persistence and hard work can be seen through his students' success and is recognized by the teaching staff.

Friends often comment about ow lucky they are to have him as a teacher.

Students come out of his class knowing more than ever expected.

Rams 2001 Season

Opening up the 2001 football season, our stands were filled with the faithful fans we had, the newspapers and other coaches of the OCL. The incoming Rams season was expected to be less than a success. The first day at practice ou coaches told us that the Town wouldn't be surprised to see less than five wins on the season. Marshfield opened up its season with two exceptional wins over Springfield and North Quincy. Support was rallied as the Rams played well against a skilled Bridgewater Team and then triumphed over a strong Brockton Team. The Rams finished off their season at 6 and 4 with wins over Brockton, Springfield, North Quincy, Falmouth, Taunton and Plymouth South. Despite the loss of a strong senior class, the Rams surpassed the low expectations set for them in their first season in Division 9. Rumors surface at the end of each season that Rams football is coming to an end, but we as seniors know that this is just the beginning. Good luck in all the seasons to come and never forget that football in Marshfield is not just a game, it's a tradition.

THE CODE OF THE CAF

BY ELIOT DUBOIS

I don't know why, but some people just don't understand the cafeteria. It seems that at the beginning of every year I hear incredulous cries from across the CAF, including but not limited to "What...What is this mystery food?" Or the ever popular, "Where did my table go, and who are these freaks sitting there?" In fact, to some people the cafeteria can seem like the seventh circle of Hell. Luckily, it does not have to be so. For you see, during my fiveyear campaign through this school, I have reached the pinnacle of cafeteria knowledge. I have learned "THE CODE OFTHE CAF." By following a few simple rules, you too can be submerged in the deep knowledge that will help you to survive the CAF.

To be one with the CAF, you need to be informed of the natural hierarchy that exists. Much like the Elizabethan "Great Chain of Being," there is a natural order to the CAF. At the top of the chain in ascending order are the Seniors, the "Door-Teachers," and of course, The Lunch Ladies. The Seniors are a group that, as a whole, need to be respected. If a Senior decides that his place in the lunch line is at the front, then you should do your best to accommodate him. In the long run, it saves you a lot of grief and agony. Next in the "Great Chain of the Cafeteria" are the "Door-Teachers." If any particular lunch is boring you to tears, don't be afraid to pay homage to these most distinguished ones. A little small talk (or a generous bribe) may result in your early dismissal. Any discourtesy, however, will be looked down upon most severely. Do your best to stay in their good graces.

The most respect needs to be given to the Lunch Ladies. These fine cafeteria workers are your ticket to the coveted "extra chicken nugget." This token will only be bestowed on those who are polite and talkative. These ladies can make all the difference in the world when it comes to your cafeteria enjoyment.

There is also a spatial matter to be concerned with. Where a person sits in the CAF can change his or her whole outlook on the day. For cafeteria novices, I suggest sitting near the middle of the CAF. The middle offers the best lighting and it is a lot less crowded. You can easily eat your lunch or do your homework while in the center, leaving your options wide open.

One final cafeteria concern is with whom you sit. The most natural response to the untrained is that of sitting with people you know and trust. While this may seem like a good plan, it will not help you on the path of CAF enlightenment. You need to sit with people whom you don't know. Whether it be band geeks or computer nerds, jocks or Ac-Dec members (That's the Academic Decathlon for the uninitiated), seniors or freshmen, you need to experience a different view. It can also help broaden your discussion range from "who is dating whom" to broader topics like geopolitics, metaphysics, and The Simpsons.

So now you know the basics of THE CODE OF THE CAF. It will serve you well. And one final piece of advice, friends don't let friends eat State Fair Corn Dogs.

VOLLEYBALL KICKED SOME ACE!

BY AMY MARSINELLI

Varsity ended their season with a win against Rockland, while Junior Varsity ended their season with two wins against Plymouth South and Bridgewater-Raynham. For many of the girls, it was their first year playing and they started the season without experience. By the end of the season though, the girls were all Division One material. The girls developed many new friendships and had a great time playing this year. Overall, the season was a great success and the girls intend to keep improving next year.

Well I woke up in mid afternoon cause that's when it all hurts the most. I dream I never know anyone at the party and I'm always the host. If dreams are like movies then memories are films about ghosts. You can never escape, you can only move south down the coast. Well I am an idiot walking a tightrope of fortune and fame. I am an acrobat swinging trapezes through circles of flame. If you've never stared off into the distance then your life is a shame. And though I'll never forget your face sometimes I can't remember my name.

It is my strong belief that these awesome kids from the Class of 2002 are the most authentic and powerful group of young adults ever to emerge from Marshfield High. Due to the events of 9/11/01 they see themselves in a new perspective to the earth, to each other, and to God, and the light within them is growing and intensifying. They are recognizing simultaneously their many human weaknesses and their many divine strengths, and they are sharing with each other openly. Love dominates the vision of this brave new generation, and they are filling our world with much needed hope and strength. God bless every one of them. Their courage will change the world. JS
